3. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

I was excited with the chance of getting on a train and visiting the city for the first time. I woke up very early. I did not wait for my grandmother to coax me into taking a bath as usual. By the time she woke up, breakfast was already waiting for her on the table.

"well done Mayamiko. I am surprised with you today. Did you prepare this on your own?" she asked.

"Yes," I replied feeling very proud. I thought to myself, "this is what I will be doing everyday during my holiday in town with Aunt Rose."

My grandmother and I had a quick breakfast. Within a short time, we were ready to go and I bade quick goodbyes to my cousins. I could tell from their faces that they wished that they too could go to the city. "We will be waiting for lots of interesting news from town when you come back," one of my cousins said jokingly. I smiled and replied, "yes I will bring back interesting stories from the city. I will also tell people stories about our village."

Tamanda, my good friend and a few others helped us to carry some of our luggage to the railway station. Many of my friends and cousins accompanied us half way. They all admired me.

We had been informed that train departed at 7:30am. We arrived at the station ten minutes before the departure time. When it was 7:30am, there was no train in sight. We waited for a long time but the train did not arrive. I could see my grandmother getting worried. "This is very unusual. Something must be wrong." We could hear some of the passengers saying to one another.

At 10 O'clock, the station master announced, "ladies and gentlemen, the train will be here at 1:00pm. It has a mechanical fault and our engineers are working on it. We are very sorry about the delay."

We were very concerned about the delay. Both grandmother and myself were visiting Aunt Rose for the first time. Neither of us knew the way to her house. She was supposed to pick us up from the city. However, we did not have any money to telephone Aunt Rose to tell her that we would be arriving late. Going back would mean missing that day's train and the next train would come after two days. We were in a dilemma.
