Mrs. Kaliwo and her husband lived with Khumbo and Jalomy, their twin sons. The two eleven – year – old boys had everything they wanted. This family family of four lived near Thandizo hospital. In many ways, the two brothers looked alike. However, they were very different in character. Jalomy was often in trouble but his twin brother never got into trouble.

Khumbo was his mother's favourite. He never did anything wrong. Everyday Khumbo brought his mother presents. Oneday, he gave her avocado pears, the next day, some oranges or peaches or bananas. There were always different kinds of fruits in the cupboard or in the fridge.

One Saturday morning, Jalomy wanted to go and play football. He played for Nyasa Big Bullets. As he was leaving, his mother gave him K 3,000.00 to buy medicine from Chirani shop.

After the game, Jalomy hurried to change his shirt and a pair of shorts in order to buy medicines. He looked for his bag in which he had put his clothes. Alas! It was not there. Someone had taken it. He was told that a big man in a big boots had taken it. Suddenly, the man appeared with a stick in one hand and Jalomy's bag in the other. Jalomy ran for his life to his home.

Jalomy got home at around five O'clock in the evening. He did not know what to do. He was very hungry. He had lost his shirt. He had also lost his shorts and he had not bought the medicine. What was he going to tell his mother? He wondered.

Later, Jalomy reported to his mother what had happened. Suddenly, they heard a big loud knock. It was the big man in his big boots. "I am a gardener at the hospital your son is a thief. Every day he steals fruits from my garden," he said.

Jalomy replied, "I think you have made a mistake, I think you want my brother not me."

The gardener looked at Jalomy, then Khumbo.

"You look the same!" he looked in surprise.
